DIEUDONNE AND HOUELLEBECQ VISIT THE PROPHET RAEL....

Here are 2 pictures we just received showing the two famous and controversial artists that are Michel Houellebecq (writer) and Dieudonne (stand-up comedian) in company of the Prophet RAEL, last week-end, in Switzerland. J

The PROPHET RAEI WITH THE EUROPEAN GUIDES...

The European guides had the privilege to receive directly the teachings of the Prophet Rael a few days ago in Switzerland... no need to say that the spirits were high in the little valley....

Here are a few words of what they could share J :

"We are unique, we are the only ones willing to guide Humanity towards a more beautiful future. We are the only ones to have such an extraordinary mission. No other religion or minority has such a mission, no other religion or minority has values such as ours, at the same time spiritual and atheistic.

No one can replace us on Earth ! If we do not conduct our awakening mission for humanity, no one will do it in our place. Our role is to guide humanity thanks to science, towards a future full of hope. We are the only ones to have spirituality and science as fundamental values.

We are the only ones to say that all that we can imagine will be reality in 25 to 30 years. For the majority of the people, this is science fiction.

Raelians are unique and irreplaceable in their mission to facilitate the acceptance of new technologies by Humanity. Let's be conscious that we are irreplaceable. Each one of us can and must make a difference.

What scientists imagine today is barely 1cm of the tip of the iceberg of what will happen in the years to come, although they are the ones working on it. Guides are the only ones who can see and understand this future without thinking that it is science fiction and without laughing about it. The majority of people laugh when we talk about the creation of an 100% synthetic animal, but it is happening right now.

"Science and technology will make impossible the existence of violence. Thanks to science, non-violence will be the rule as it is written in our genetic code. If a Raelian becomes violent, he is not Raelian anymore."

"One on the path, but quickly, one has to be conscious of the mistake and has the wisdom to start over. It is better to be conscious rather than to be right.

'During natural catastrophes like the Tsunami or the hurricane that devastated New Orleans, the Elohim never intervene. The men of this earth already have the technology to avoid these catastrophes, they can anticipate them and evacuate the populations on time.

An earthquake doesn't kill, it is the houses and other buildings that are killing while falling. Japan manages very well these kind of problems by building in a way that anticipates the consequences of an earthquake. Many countries build atomic bombs but pretend they don't have the budget to prevent natural catastrophes....

Politicians are unable to anticipate the events and people suffer the consequences of their mistakes. They are not really at the service of humanity and are only preoccupied with being re-elected and fighting for power.

"The new electronic drugs

Dependence is not important. What is important is what we depend on. Dependence is not necessarily bad; it is bad if it destroys us. If we depend on something that builds us, then it is good to be dependent.

It is good to be dependent on the happiness to be alive, on love or on meditation, but if we are dependent on cocaine, it is bad for us.

In the future, there will be electronic drugs that will build the brain and bring as much good as meditation, without any secondary effect. It won't be bad then to depend on it.

In the future society where there will be only leisure and no obligatory work, it won't be a bad thing to get high, especially with electronic drugs which build the brain.

One more time, what is bad is not to be dependent, it is what we depend on. This is important and we have to be conscious of it. We depend on drinking water every day, and this is good, but if one drinks 50L of water, one dies.

Despite what is commonly said, it is not bad to depend on video games, if they are elevating one and give pleasure.... Provided you don't fall into excess and die like this young Chinese boy who played for more than 50 hours and let himself die from lack of water and food.

ABOUT THE NEWS

Nuclear weapons: a simultaneous destruction of all stocks!!

"Britain will keep nuclear weapons for as long any potential enemy anywhere in the world has them" said John Reid, the UK Defense Secretary. "The fact that they are useless against international terrorism is no argument for getting rid of them when other countries are acquiring nuclear weapons" he told the House of Commons Select Committee on Defense last week.

Here is the comment of the Prophet RAEL:

This is the never ending story of "others have it, so we must keep it" until a nuclear holocaust happens....and of course if those who have it, keep it, how can they ask those who don't have it not to make it, except if there is a double standard. The only solution is a simultaneous destruction of all nuclear weapons in all countries supervised by the United Nations, and starting with those having most of them like the USA and Russia, in a step by step action reducing from 10,000 to 1,000, then to 100, then to 10, then to nothing, simultaneously in all countries, so nobody feels threatened, and at the same time allowing ALL countries without exception to have it.

How can the United Nations make a scandal about Iran getting one nuclear weapon while the USA has 10,000 of them and Israel 100? The non-proliferation treaty is a scandal trying to help superpower to keep their advantage and world domination. It should be replaced by a progressive equal nuclear disarmament treaty authorizing all countries to have the same amount of nuclear weapons and forcing them to reduce their stocks simultaneously until there are no more nukes on Earth.

It's the only way to save mankind. If not, everybody will keep it, arguing that others still have it...

PRESS RELEASE REGARDING THE LATEST FRENCH RIOTS
OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT SO THAT HE SENDS IVORY COAST'S ARMY TO PARIS TO HELP BRING BACK PEACE

We, Raelians from Ivory Coast, following an idea of RAEL, are officially asking His Excellency Laurent GBAGBO, President of the Republic of Ivory Coast, Chief of State, to send troops to Paris in order to protect Ivory Coast's citizens from the local violence.

As France is always there to send troops to Africa with its old colonialist, imperialist and racist habits, under the pretext to protect their citizens and considering the actual violent acts in Paris, reciprocity must apply as there are many African immigrants in Paris, probably more than there are French immigrants in Africa. If such a reciprocal act was refused, it would be the proof of the racism, the imperialism and the superiority complex of the French authorities.

PRESS RELEASE SENT IN THE US regarding the Kansas debate

Intelligent Design: Yes In Kansas, No In Pennsylvania -- Raelians Bring Third Option

A widespread debate is raging across the US about the introduction into schools of the Intelligent Design (ID) theory as an alternative to the theory of evolution. Opponents see this as an attempt to reintroduce God into the school curriculum despite the Supreme Court's refusal almost 50 years ago on the grounds that the separation of church and state is written in the Constitution. Indeed, the religious conservatives are certainly using this camouflage to find their way back into schools...

RAEL's book, Intelligent Design: Message from the Designers, presents an original and unique third option to explain the origin of life on earth. This atheist ID theory cannot be denied by the Supreme Court since it does not promote religion in schools! Atheist Intelligent Design is the scientific creation of life on earth performed by an advanced human civilisation from another planet. This brings a completely new, rational theory explaining our origins that is actually reproducible in laboratories, as made evident by Craig Venter's recent announcement that he had started the process of designing and creating the first totally synthetic unicellular organism. The essential prerequisite in true science is that phenomena can be reproduced in a laboratory. Evolution has never been reproduced in any laboratory, which is why it's called a "theory." The same is true, of course, for the theory of "God."

This third option, termed "atheist Intelligent Design," is the only one that can be reproduced in a laboratory right now and is about to actually happen. The idea that there are billions of planets similar to the Earth in the universe is also accepted by most scientists, as is the fact that our civilization may not be the most advanced in the universe. So having a much more advanced extraterrestrial human civilisation coming to Earth a long time ago to create life in a kind of panspermia is the most rational explanation of our origins.

At the very least, this should be taught in schools as an alternative to the theory of evolution. And no school can deny access to an atheist Intelligent Design theory on the grounds of church and state separation. Even believers in God would stand to gain by using this book's explanation as a "Trojan horse" to enter the school system as an alternative to the monolithic, dogmatic and intolerant theory of evolution.

Our support was sent to:

- The UK government representative who decided to organize early learning for children before 5. Pre-school children need opportunities to develop key communication skills through play and non-formalised learning.
The Prophet RAEL reminded us that it is "never too young to learn"

- Lord Joffe who submitted for consideration by the House of Lords, a proposal to allow doctors to help some terminally ill patients to die. This bill is modeled around Oregon's Death with Dignity Act.

LIFE IN THE MOVEMENT

Little Shop of Diffusion in UK

By Saori Ford

Andreas Coutсарou, one of the oldest members of the British Movement, works on the till at a busy Marks & Spencers in London. He wears a big Raelian Symbol and explains what it is for when asked by customers. On Tuesday 2nd November, a familiar face walked in the shop and came to Andrea's till. He immediately recognised this customer as Richard Wilson, one of Britain's best-liked television comedy actors. They soon started chatting about the symbol and Andreas told Richard that we are a science based religion. As a former Haematologist, Richard seemed very interested and was very happy to take rael.org URL off Andreas. He thanked him and left the shop smiling. It was just a few minutes encounter with this famous actor but Andreas did a great diffusion at his till! On another occasion, a young man was intrigued by what Andreas had to say about the cloning and on leaving, he shouted "Please bring back Elvis!"

Even the tiniest step forward will be worth something... :)))

Raelians in Swedish TV

By Daniel Vandinja, level 4

The members Daniel Vandinja and Claudia Videla appeared on a national television show called "Outsiders" on the 24th and 30th of October. The show produced by Channel 5 and known for portraying people with peculiar hobbies, was seen by about 750.000 viewers.

The total broadcasting time for us was about 15 minutes, but it was enough to get 600 visitors to the Swedish website, in 24 hours! and 3 teenagers immediately contacted us for membership.

The part where Daniel was interviewed was great. He explained the basis of the messages and also told his own story of encountering a triangular UFO in 1985. Several images of Rael, the books and the embassy were shown. One part of the programme documented our CD-diffusion in the streets of Stockholm.

Repeatedly it was said by the commentator that the "Elohim would come to take over the planet" but apart from that it was a true hit.

Real science more amazing than fiction, still in Sweden

By Kenny Stolpe, national Guide of Sweden

We were X members who met at the gates of a Science-fiction convent. We diffused cds and leaflets to the people entering the convent. Our theme was to inform them that the reality of science will soon be far more amazing than fiction. Thanks to the TV-show on national Swedish TV a few days before (see article above) a lot of people also recognized us from the programme.

In Quebec, we don't give up !

By Daniel Chabot

Michel Chabot, guide level 4, has filed a case against Pauline Marois at the 'Personal Right Committee' for the discriminatory language she used when talking about our Beloved Prophet, about the Movement and the Raelians.

Last week, we also went to demonstrate in front of the place where the last debate before the election was taking place. About thirty of us were there and when we tried to enter the room, with our medallions around our neck, we were denied access!

We evidently complained and went up to the responsible of the meeting who after arguing for a while, finally let us come in. All this was of course recorded by the media present.

What is interesting is that, while we were arguing in front of the door, the TV crew filming everything started to ask questions to the organizers, asking them whether they were stopping people with other religious signs. A woman entering the room was asked whether she was Raelian. She answered: 'No I'm not but considering what's happening here tonight, I feel like becoming one of them'.

J

What a beautiful evening we had! Of course we left when it was Pauline Marois' turn to talk, as usual, telling loudly to the media that she hasn't apologized yet...

Meditation associated with increased grey matter in the brain

10-Nov-2005

New Haven, Conn.-Meditation is known to alter resting brain patterns, suggesting long lasting brain changes, but a new study by researchers from Yale, Harvard, Massachusetts General Hospital, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology shows meditation also is associated with increased cortical thickness.

The structural changes were found in areas of the brain that are important for sensory, cognitive and emotional processing, the researchers report in the November issue of NeuroReport.

Although the study included only 20 participants, all with extensive training in Buddhist Insight meditation, the results are significant, said Jeremy Gray, assistant professor of psychology at Yale and co-author of the study led by Sara Lazar, assistant in psychology at Massachusetts General Hospital.

"What is most fascinating to me is the suggestion that meditation practice can change anyone's grey matter," Gray said. "The study participants were people with jobs and families. They just meditated on average 40 minutes each day, you don't have to be a monk."

Magnetic resonance imaging showed that regular practice of meditation is associated with increased thickness in a subset of cortical regions related to sensory, auditory, visual and internal perception, such as heart rate or breathing. The researchers also found that regular meditation practice may slow age-related thinning of the frontal cortex.

"Most of the regions identified in this study were found in the right hemisphere," the researchers said. "The right hemisphere is essential for sustaining attention, which is a central practice of Insight meditation."

They said other forms of yoga and meditation likely have a similar impact on cortical structure, although each tradition would be expected to have a slightly different pattern of cortical thickening based on the specific mental exercises involved.
