I hope we build the Embassy in Palestine

Maitreya Rael, Raelian Gathering, Aug 17, 80 aH (2025), Okinawa, Japan

Good morning! It’s time for the contact. But you, Raelians, are always in contact with the Elohim. I am a little bit more than the others. Sometimes I say, “Okay, on Sunday at 11 a.m. I will stop,” since I’m in contact with them all the time. So, on Sunday at 11 a.m., I could relax.

But I never relax about love for the Elohim. I am always here for them. And you are too. I know you are real Raelians. Real Raelians are always in contact with the Elohim. Not only when you meditate, but also when you eat, when you drink, when you sleep, when you make love; whatever you do. As real Raelians, you are always connected to the Elohim. Your gratitude toward the Elohim must always be there.

When you say, “Thank you,” you are happy. Why are we happy when we say, “Thank you”? Because it is love. You are acknowledging an act of love. Everything you do for me is not you; it is the Elohim using you to take care of me. Why? You don’t do it because I am a handsome French man, but thanks to the Elohim. Through your love, I feel the love of the Elohim; in every song you sing, every dance you dance, every laugh you laugh.

Today, the contact is simple: it is enough if you are happy to be with me. Are you? – [Yes!] – Thank you, Elohim! You are with me thanks to them. How amazing is that! From Korea, from Canada, from Vietnam, from everywhere. Elohim’s action! They made me find you. They made me offering you the gift of knowing them. I am very, very proud of myself. It was not easy to find you; the fantastic consciousnesses and supraconsciousnesses that you are, spread across this Earth, in different places, different countries, different cultures, different languages. You read the Message, and you are here. So together we can say, “Thank you, Elohim!”

“ I hope one day we build the Embassy in Palestine —maybe even in Gaza. We have plenty of material to build it. What a symbol it would be if it were built with the rubble of Gaza. That is a beautiful dream.

Thank you, Elohim! ”

And the most beautiful gift from the Elohim is that you can leave at any moment. You have the freedom to love the Elohim or not; it is never forced on you. You are free to go; the doors are always open. That is the most beautiful gift, because real love can only exist in total freedom. And the Message makes us free.

The freedom to love, the freedom to give your life to the Elohim, that is fantastic! It is not a commandment like the Ten Commandments given to Moses. It's a very important part of the Message of the Elohim; in the most important mission they gave me – to build the Embassy – they said, “If you like.” Not, “You must,” but “if you wish to welcome us.” If you wish. It comes from you. You are not forced. “Build an embassy and we will come.” So, we are inviting the Elohim to Earth. Amazing! They could say, “The Earth belongs to us. We created life; you belong to us. Build an embassy! If not, you will be punished in hell.” They could be dictators. But no! They say, “If you wish, please build an embassy.” That's Yahweh speaking to humanity. Pure love. You are free; free to love, free to build the Embassy. Do you wish to build it? – [Yes!] – It is your choice! That is crazy; crazy with respect, love, and humility. They are our Creators, and they say, “Please, build an embassy.” You cannot imagine something more humble. That is their Message, and that is why you help me, because you feel free to do it. It is not an obligation.

Being Raelian is not about being married, it is about being in love every day; in love with the Message, not with the messenger, but with the Message, with the Elohim. They enlighten your life. If you feel this, every little problem on Earth becomes just a detail. Every difficulty in your life becomes a detail, every suffering; because in life there is suffering. When you work for the Elohim, you welcome problems; they do not stop you, they give you more energy to accomplish what you wish to do.

By chance, I am here now. But if I disappear... no, when I disappear, go wherever you want. But within you, in your heart, in your supraconsciousness, wherever you are, you will always carry the love for the Elohim.

Whatever accident life puts on your path, hold on to this fidelity, this permanence of devotion. Whatever happens in your life, whatever difficulties, whatever suffering, even if life brings you down, breaks you, depresses you, or makes you think of ending your life, stand tall and say, “I am Raelian!” Without money, without a job, say, “I am Raelian!” That is the strength given to you by the Message. You may become a billionaire or sleep on the street, but still say, “I am Raelian!”

And to finish this speech, which is perhaps a little too long, you know what is happening in Palestine. Now we have the Palestinian Raelian Movement. I wish the team taking care of it increases communication with the Palestinian authorities because I believe that if the Embassy is built in Palestine, even in Gaza, it would be a beautiful example. That is my secret hope. Of course, the Chinese hope to have the Embassy, the Koreans, the French; everyone hopes it will be in their country. But the Message says, “near Jerusalem”. And Jerusalem is a city of Palestine. So, I hope one day we build the Embassy in Palestine, maybe even in Gaza. We have plenty of material to build it. What a symbol it would be if it were built with the rubble of Gaza. That is a beautiful dream. Thank you, Elohim!

I wish you a beautiful eternity.

Be you if you want to make me happy

Maitreya Rael, Raelian Gathering, Aug 10, 80 aH (2025), Okinawa, Japan

The word “angel” comes from the Greek ángghelos, which means, “messenger”. You are all messengers of love, messengers of the Elohim. Not only me. I gave you that terrible mission. For me, it’s easy. But for you, it was a choice. Nobody chose you. One day, you stood up and said, “I will be a messenger of the Elohim!” And you must feel that wonderful emotion every time you give a leaflet, every time you sit in the street to meditate one minute for peace, every time you pronounce the word “Elohim”.

The best prayer is simply to say, “Elohim.” Because they are watching you, and they are proud of you when you are yourself.

People may look at you and think you’ve been brainwashed into a strange cult. But they are the ones who have been brainwashed. You chose to be you! That’s not easy, because all of society tries to make you someone you are not. From the moment you start school, they tell you, “You have to be like this, sing like that, dress like that.” They mold you into something you are not. Then, one day, you go through a process and say, “I will be myself!” If you are lucky enough to find a good teacher, a good guru, he will try to help you become who you truly are. I’ve been doing that for fifty years; I try.

Some people think Maitreya changes people, turning them into zombies. But it’s society that makes you zombies. Television makes you zombies. Politicians make you zombies. Go to any large city and you’ll see people walking the same way, wearing the same clothes, carrying the same little attaché cases, chasing the same goal; making money. And when they have the money, they buy a house that looks exactly like everyone else’s.

In Japan – and in Okinawa too – there are many buildings where all the apartments are identical. Everyone says, “This is my apartment.” I call these buildings “rabbit houses” because they look like the cages, I once used to raise rabbits. Some people enjoy camping for vacations. They feel good there. So, they have a vertical rabbit cage for their daily life – their apartment – and a horizontal rabbit cage when camping. Then they reach seventy, retire, and go to the cemetery asking, “Is there life after death?”

And I ask them: “Did you have a life before death?”

You have a life when you are yourself. My goal has always been to help you be you.

Eight years ago, this beautiful woman came here [referring to his partner]. She entered my house, and the first thing I told her was, “Be you! If you want to make me happy, be you!” The more you are yourself, the prouder I am of myself. I am a gardener, and for me, you are all flowers. In a garden, which I love, you find hibiscus, orchids, violets. They are all beautiful, but so different. You cannot ask a violet to become an orchid. They are themselves. I wish the same for you.

When I look at the Raelians, you are my garden. Be you. Shine your light. Some of you are little violets, some are beautiful orchids. What flower are you? Find out, and grow into the best version of yourself. So, in the morning, you can look in the mirror and be in love with yourself, “I am a beautiful flower, created by the Elohim.” They are the first gardeners, and they want to see you shine.

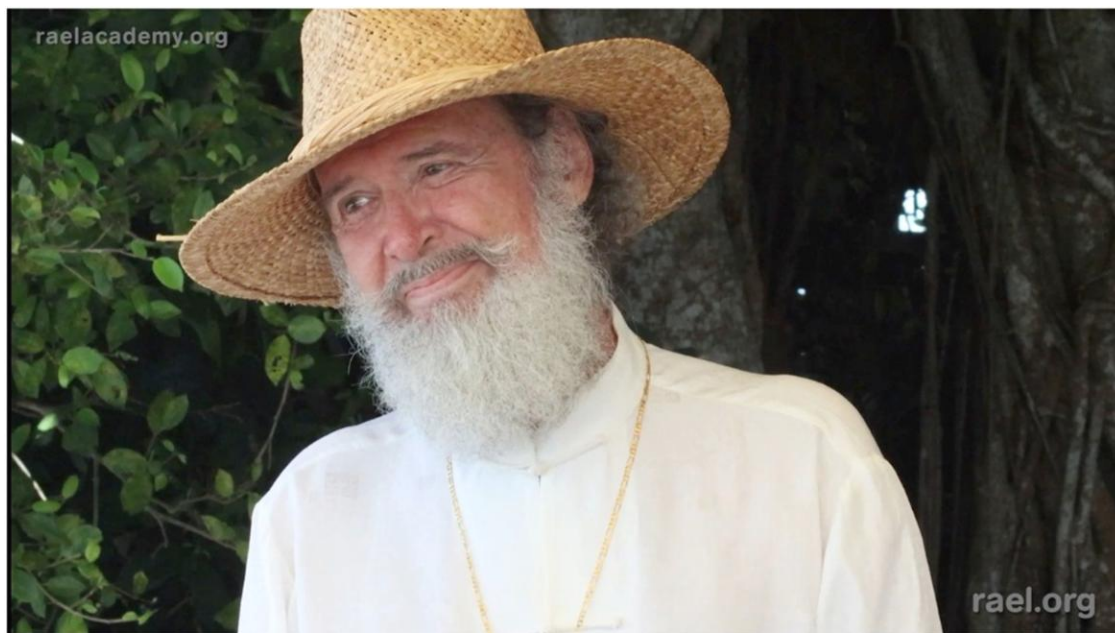

Why are so few people on the eternal life planet? Because to go there, you must be you; shining, dancing like Shizue, singing like Lotus. Even if you don’t have the same voice, sing your song, not Lotus’s song. You each have a song. Tadao's song is Tadao's song; Viva's song is Viva's song. You know his song, right? "Viva la vie" [referring to Maitreya's song]. Sing your own song. Don't imitate others. Don't conform.

Be you! And when I see you being you, that is the best gift you can offer me. Always think and repeat, "Thank you, Elohim, for making me who I am!"

Thank you, Elohim!

I wish you a beautiful infinity; not just a beautiful day, because a day is too short. I wish you a beautiful eternity... plus ten years.

Be you!

And when I see you being you, that is the best gift you can offer me. Always think and repeat, "Thank you, Elohim, for making me who I am!"

50% (chance of survival)

Maitreya Rael, Raelian New Year, Aug 06, 80 aH (2025), Okinawa, Japan

So, it's time for the big number. Even if everything in the world is getting worse and worse, our chance of survival is still 50%! We are fortunate to receive information directly from the Elohim, who have the power to see what is happening before we can. Last year it was 50% (December 79 aH). It should have improved, but sadly, it has not.

But the forecast is clear: things are not improving; it's getting worse and worse. Why is it still at 50% like last year? Last year, there were fewer atomic bombs. Now the number of bombs is increasing so fast. China and Russia are producing atomic bombs as if they were bottling mineral water. Before, maybe one new bomb appeared each week. Now it's ten every day! It's madness.

And yet, since there are more and more bombs, governments are more and more afraid, because they know that if they use them, they too will be destroyed. This "balance of fear" is exactly what we want. If everybody is very afraid, we have more chances to survive. Years ago, I already said, "Make more atomic bombs! More, more!" Because everybody becomes afraid and the balance of fear is what can save us.

Think of it like this: if your neighbor has a gun, you buy one too. If he buys ten guns, you buy ten. Then, neither of you will dare attack the other. That is beautiful. That is peace through fear. And that is why I hope more and more countries will acquire atomic bombs. When everyone has them, everyone will be afraid, and no one will use them. It's coming!

The real danger was when only the U.S., Russia, and China had them. In 1945, if Japan had possessed atomic bombs, Hiroshima would never have happened, because the U.S. would have feared retaliation. So, the danger for Japan came from the fact that Japan didn't have the atomic bomb.

And I hope that very soon Japan will have the atomic bomb; and yes, it will. And Taiwan, South Korea, every country, and Africa. If all 200 countries, on this planet, have the atomic bomb, nobody would use it; because these bombs are so powerful.

Forget about the Hiroshima bomb. That bomb was like a firecracker children play with; that was Hiroshima. Today's atomic bombs are so powerful that if just one were dropped in the middle of Japan, there would be no more Japan; only the ocean. It wouldn't destroy only Hiroshima, or Tokyo, or Osaka. No! All of Japan would disappear into the ocean.

Only three atomic bombs would be needed to destroy the entire United States of America. Not more than three! Eh, eh, eh!

You can imagine the power of the bombs being made today! And scientists are working to make them even more powerful every day. That's beautiful because if they are afraid, everyone is afraid. With the push of a single red button, no more life on Earth. With just ten today's bombs, no more life on Earth. That's beautiful! The Elohim created life, and now we have the power to destroy it all! Let's celebrate, because we can destroy it all!

But we will not use them. Soon, all the governments of Earth will gather and say, "Wait a minute, we don't want to destroy everything on Earth." They already have agreements called the Non-Proliferation Treaty, which means, "We, the big countries, can have them. You, the small countries, cannot." America, Russia, and China say: "We are big countries. We deserve to have them because we are responsible and will never use them; especially not on civilians.”

“Chotto matte kudasai” (wait a minute), who was it that actually used it against civilian cities? Which country dropped an atomic bomb on a city? Was it Nazi Germany? Was it Korea? Was it Libya? Was it Iran? Only one country dropped the atomic bomb; not once, but twice. Not on military bases, but on cities full of women going to the market and little children in schools. And that country calls itself the most civilized! Ha, ha, ha! It’s so funny. The United States of America! And now they try to teach lessons to everybody else.

“You are not conscious enough to have atomic bombs,” they say. But they are the ones who used them! It’s crazy. How can they try to lecture the world about democracy, freedom, respect for life, and human rights?

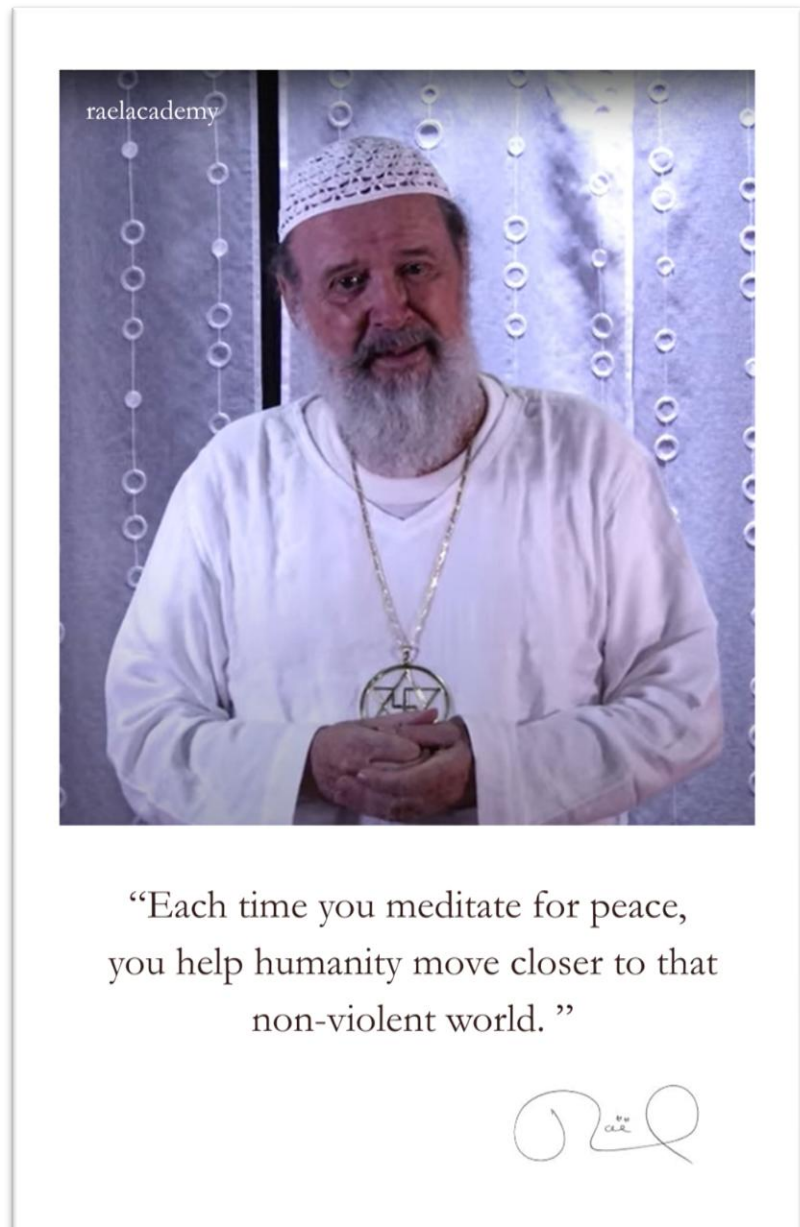

Hiroshima: boom! Nagasaki: boom! And now they claim, “We want peace, we want democracy.” They are liars. And this is not just theory, it really happened. Hiroshima is not a dream; it’s a real story. Even today, people still cry for their fathers, mothers, and grandparents who died there.

And they could simply say, “Oh, it was a mistake, we are sorry.” But they never did. Every year, one American president goes to Hiroshima. And every year, not once did he say “sorry”. Not a single time!

They never said it; unlike the Japanese, who are so good at saying, “gomennasai” (I am sorry). Nothing! Instead, they said, “Thanks to the atomic bomb, we saved many lives.” Wow! What planet is that? 300,000 people died, but they claim, “We saved lives!” On what kind of planet did the Elohim send me? They are lying; “lying through their teeth,” as the British say.

It would be so easy for the American president to go to Hiroshima and say, “Gomennasai” (I am sorry).

It’s so easy. Is it difficult to say, “We are sorry”? Never! Never! They go, they put flowers, but never say, “Sorry.” This is our world, “Yes, we made a deadly mistake, but we are not sorry. It was to save lives.” I cry every time I think about it. I cannot stop crying. At least you cannot change the past, but you can, like you do so well in Japan, simply say, "Sorry."

Just one word; no! Instead, "It was to save lives!" Is this a Mr. Bean movie? For me it's like a Charlie Chaplin movie. They are crazy, crazy liars; and they are ready to do it again. But thankfully, soon everyone will have the atomic bomb.

Russia now has the most powerful atomic bomb. But not only the bomb; the rocket to deliver it. That's what's really interesting: hypersonic rockets so fast they travel fourteen times the speed of sound. One rocket launched from Moscow could hit Washington in ten minutes. Ten minutes! Eh! So, nobody can protect themselves. There is no time to push a button for defense; impossible!

Ten minutes, it's almost the same as pushing the button and it explodes immediately. Ten minutes! Russia has it. America doesn't. And they are scared to death. China is very close to having it; India and Pakistan too, and many other countries as well. Very soon, every country in the world will be able to push a button, and in ten minutes it will reach anywhere on Earth. Wonderful! Fantastic! So, everybody is afraid, and we will be saved by this fear. Thanks to this advanced technology, in any war there will be no winner, "You destroy my country, I destroy yours." Not one city, like Hiroshima; your entire country will turn to glass. The heat of these atomic bombs makes the earth melt into glass, like a window.

That's why we still have a 50% chance of survival.

Not because of people's wisdom, but because of fear. Pure fear!

Leaders know, they have advisors who warn them, "Don't press the button. Ten minutes later, we would explode." The White House would be black in ten minutes. Fear restrains them.

So, we live in absolutely fantastic times, we are so lucky. Thank you, Elohim. Thank you for giving us intelligence that makes us advance so fast it makes our weapons unusable. I read the news every day and I am thrilled by the reports on the speed of rockets. Rockets now cross the globe in ten minutes. It progresses fast; soon it will take maybe one minute. That's what will save the world. When you have weapons that can destroy everything in one minute, you are also destroyed.

Then you stop and the next treaty will not be about "non-proliferation", but about "non-production". Nations will finally agree to eliminate all weapons. That is the only way out, and it is coming, and you are part of it.

Each time you meditate for peace, you help humanity move closer to that non-violent world. Every time you meditate for peace, you influence the governments. This one-minute meditation for peace that we do together is very important. We are really saving humanity. Never think, "Oh, I'm just one little human", "Oh, if I meditate, I don't change anything." Science proves to us that our brain affects every other brain. Thanks to AI, quantum computers, we realize that everything influences everything, that some atoms moving in your brain influence the movement of atoms on another planet. Quantum computers, entanglement, it's the scientific term; they now realize that when a particle moves, another particle is also affected by this movement. So, what happens in your brain affects the brain of everybody.

So, meditate for peace!

I love you. They love you. And we must spread love everywhere. Happy New Year!

Love, the energy that makes the universe one

Maitreya Rael, Raelian Gathering, July 13, 79 aH (2025), Okinawa, Japan

Imagine if the Elohim had not created life. Imagine we didn't exist. The sun would still be in the same place, the moon in the same place, the Earth in the same place; but we wouldn't be here. The universe doesn't need us. It would remain absolutely and perfectly harmonious without us. That's very interesting: we are not necessary... and yet, we are here.

So, what do we bring to the universe? Love.

And that is the most important element, like in the movie The Fifth Element. It's not a chemical you can find in the soil. We create love. We were created to create love.

Remember the teaching of the Elohim: We are infinity becoming conscious of itself.

This may be the deepest sentence in all the teachings of the Elohim. I repeat: We are infinity becoming conscious of itself. And that is love. Without supraconsciousness, there is no love. With consciousness, we can perceive the universe. With supraconsciousness, we feel love.

What makes the universe turn? What makes the Earth circle the Sun?

Scientists talk about gravitation, about forces between atoms and planets. I told you there is a particle they don't yet know about; the graviton. It's love. It's love! The universe is one because of love. You can invent many names, but it's love. When we spread love, we spread the truth about the energy that makes the universe one.

The energy that holds the universe together is the same energy that holds us together. The energy that makes electrons and particles stay within atoms, it's the same energy. It's love.

Very simple. And we are that energy. Thanks to quantum physics, scientists are beginning to sense this. In fact, they don't understand it but they feel it. They feel that there is something they cannot explain, and they are beginning to accept that.

Because human beings have such a huge ego that they think they can understand everything. But they can't. Some things cannot be understood; like infinity. Don't try to understand infinity; you will go mad. But you can feel it. It's the same with love, real love. I am not talking about hormonal attraction. Hormonal attraction is beautiful, but it's not love. Snails, butterflies, they are attracted to the opposite sex. That's not love. That's glands.

“Gland” is a medical term, not a poetic one. I see a beautiful breast, I react; that's my glands, not my consciousness. The love I am talking about is universal love; the love that comes from feeling infinity, from feeling that we are one. The happiness of each one of you matters to me. The happiness of every human being on Earth matters to me. And when you feel that, love is everywhere. So, feel it.

When you spread the Message of the Elohim, you spread love. Their Message is beautiful. It helps us understand many things. But above all, it gives us the symbol of infinity, which itself cannot be understood. It makes us understand what is not possible to understand. What is important, what really matters for our supraconsciousness, is to understand the un-understandable: infinity!

We spread the Message, we spread the concept of infinity, and we help people feel infinity. And when you feel infinity, love comes automatically. You are part of me. There is only the illusion of separation. You are here, I am here, but we are one. That is the beauty of the teaching of the Elohim: we are one.

Everything that happens – this is quantum physics – everything happening in your brain is affected by what I think. Everything you feel is affected by what I feel. That is why meditating together is so much more powerful than meditating alone in your bedroom. We don't need to understand why; we just need to feel it.

Do you understand me? It doesn't matter. Do you feel me? That matters. And I feel you. I don't want to understand. When you see a new face, if you try to “understand” them, you think, “I am important, I will understand you better than you understand yourself.” That is ego! That's why people – even non-Raelians – are drawn to be near me. Many times, in airports or airplanes, people approach me, as if pulled by something, and ask, “Who are you?” It's a beautiful question. And what is the best answer?

Nothing.

If you say something, ego enters, “I am a teacher. I am a prophet. I am a guru.” All wrong. That's why Buddha simply said, “I am.” Not “I am something.” Just “I am.” There is no need for any word. When asked, “Who are you”, people usually reply, “I am a...” and then name their job or nationality. But that is not them. “I am.” “Yes, but who are you?” “I am.”

That contains everything; especially infinity. Do you feel it? I hope you don't understand it. I don't want to be understood; I want to be felt. Remember: you cannot understand infinity, but you can feel it. Who am I? A messenger of the Elohim, yes. But who are the Elohim? Messengers of infinity. So, I am a messenger of infinity. And you are messengers of infinity. When you spread their Message, you are not spreading the understanding of infinity, you are spreading the feeling of infinity. The best compliment someone can give you is to ask, “Who are you?”

If people never ask you that, something is missing. You are not radiating enough. People should be struck; not by your explanations about the Elohim or DNA, but by the light coming from you.

If you get, “Who are you?”, then you are. So, be. This is love; love for infinity, love for the Elohim. When you are in that state, in this feeling, you are on the same level as the Elohim. One day, you will meet the Elohim. And what will you say to them? Will you ask silly questions, as I once did, “Are you from far away? What is your job? Where do you come from?”

No.

If you are in the field of infinity, you will instantly connect with Yahweh. You will be on the same level. When you feel infinity – repeat this often – when you feel infinity, you are equal to the Elohim. Talk about science? About the universe? Forget it. You will not reach even 1% of 1% of 1% of their knowledge.

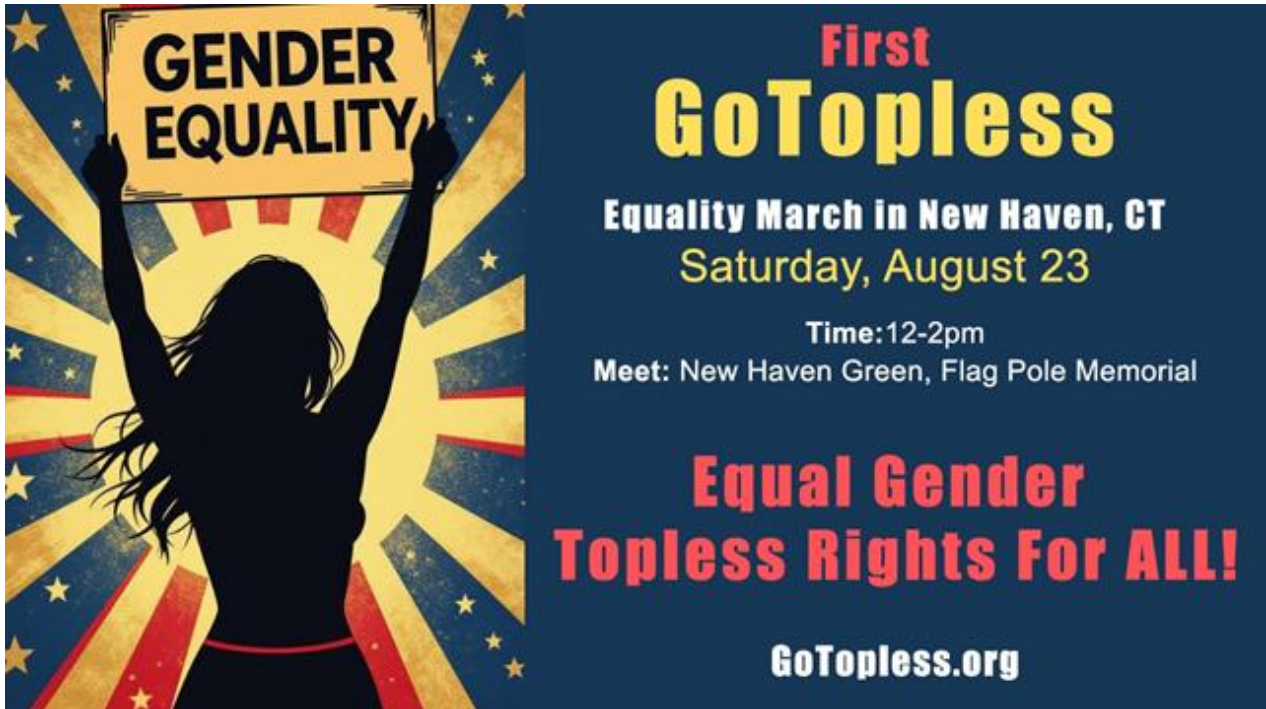

Your science is at the level of a cockroach. But if you talk about infinity, you are at the same level as Yahweh. So, where do you want to be? When you meet Yahweh, and you will one day, will you meet Him with intellect or with feeling? If you choose feeling, you will be in immediate harmony with the Elohim. You will know what to do. Because how can I describe Yahweh? A genius? A scientist? He created life on Earth...

No. He is. And His very name means, “I am.” Yahweh means, “I am.” Nothing else needs to be said. I am so happy to see you, to feel you. I cannot understand you but I feel you. And remember, when you meet each other, feel, don’t try to understand. If you feel, there is no judgment. When you try to understand, judgment appears. So, love.

Love is feeling. Love is being.

GoTopless in the world: 18th anniversary

GoTopless marks 18th anniversary amid growing support and ongoing challenges

This year, GoTopless' challenges started early in the season when all the social media (FB, Instagram, X) refused to advertise our various events in the US and Germany. prompting Maitreya to write: "so more and more cities are legal for women to go topless [Rael was referring to a post about toplessness being legal in Denver, Colorado], but Facebook still censors photos where we see women's nipples. Facebook is becoming, in the name of "community" a kind of cathedral of conservatism, obscurantism and sexism. When will they evolve?"

Above is the "outrageous" GoTopless ad that no social media wanted to publish LOL! Note that the ad in Switzerland somehow made it through and reached over 29K views!

We countered this discrimination by posting a generous number of consciousness-stimulating videos like the clip titled Seins Nus (see link below) – images, and a petition on our social media and especially on our FB page followed by 146K people. On the ground, more challenges awaited us like in Europe where the Paris police informed Maryline's team that they would allow the GoTopless march only if everyone was fully dressed! 😂
Equal repression for all! 🙌

In the Northeast USA region, GoTopless Raelians were busy at play during a three-day event in three cities led by Kasyo. (This year, we didn't go to New York.) The police in New Haven, CT, in Providence, RI and in Boston, MA, were supportive of our first amendment right to march completely topless for topless equality, sometimes blocking traffic so our group could safely cross busy streets during the march ... until someone in the town complained about our exposed female nipples (you know, the “what will the children think about our exposed nipples?” argument... 🤔). And then, the discrimination immediately surfaced. The women in our group were suddenly in the murky water of “disturbing the peace”, and were threatened to be arrested but not the men. Note that the vast majority of the population we met were supportive or neutral. But the discomfort or “sensitivity” (the legal argument that caused GoTopless to lose its court case in 2018) reflects the sentiment of an extreme minority. Yet, it kept the police on their toes to accommodate them and the gender discriminatory laws that remain in place for now.

It is worth mentioning that in Denver, CO, a city where toplessness is legal, non-Raelians organize an annual GoTopless Day attended by over one hundred people (check their Peace & Love video here: <https://www.denvergotopless.com>) It originally started with a small group led by Brigitte.

But I am saving the best for the end... Not only did we rattle the walls of human discrimination and body shame but our actions also sparked several articles in the press that thoroughly and respectfully explained the Raelian philosophy. (See below.) Between August 17 and August 24, the traffic on Rael.org nearly tripled!!!

Thank you to all the teams everywhere for your contribution! Remember, our actions heal humanity !... be the change!!!
